PRIMARY ELECTION LAW CONSTITUTIONAL.

The decision of the court of appeals upon the appeal in the Norfolk primary cases is most gratifying to the people of Virginia. It not only nullifies any supposed necessity for an extra session of the Legislature, and the attendant expenses for the purpose of enacting a primary law, but it forever sets at rest all conflict of opinion as to the constitutionality of the present statute, so far as it relates to fraudulent practices in primary elections, and puts those who conduct such elections on notice that the present law is sufficient to reach transgressors in this respect and meet out to them adequate punishment.

We have never had any doubt as to the termination of the controversy, once it reached the Court of Appeals for decision, and the court has acted wisely in departing from its usual custom, in refusing writ of error, in stating at length its reasons for so doing and passing upon collateral questions, which are the subject of controversy.

This decision will be a wholesome check upon primary election frauds and it is to be hoped that the transgressors in Norfolk will be re-instructed and tried, as the court's opinion says they may be.

It is hardly fair to compare the expenditures under the administrations of Governor Swanson and Governor Mann, as some of the newspapers of the State are doing, with those of previous administrations to the disparagement of the former. The people of Virginia have nothing to growl about on account of any very great extravagance under the administration of any Governor we can recall, but if expenses have increased under the two most recent administrations, the people have received a most substantial quid pro quo. It was under Governor Swanson's administration that the great strides we have made in public education and educational facilities, permanent public road building and improvement were inaugurated, and Governor Mann has carried forward, with the aid of the Legislature, these much to be desired and much needed improvements. We know of no one who has the interest of the State at heart who desires to take any backward step in regard to them. If it is necessary to raise more revenue to carry forward this great work, means must be devised to do so. In our opinion, the present cry of extravagance has but little foundation in fact.

WOMEN MAKE PROTEST

Martin, Swanson and Carlin Oppose Convict Camp Near Mt. Vernon.

Headed by Senators Martin and Swanson and Representative Carlin, of Virginia, a delegation of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association called on the District Commissioners in Washington Wednesday, and strongly protested against the erection of a reformatory by the District of Columbia near Mt. Vernon. No objection to the construction of the institution in any part of Virginia was raised, and the delegation assured the commissioners that it would do all in its power to find a suitable place for the reformatory, should the District officials so desire.

"Mount Vernon is the most historical spot in all Virginia," said Senator Martin in voicing his protest. "These ladies, who have called on you, have rebuilt that famous old place without an appropriation. They have raised various amounts to preserve and beautify the great Shrine of the American patriots. It is not fair that the Government should make a dime museum out of Mount Vernon." That is unjust. They have no appropriation, and every cent which is paid in at the gate goes toward the support of that historical spot. Mount Vernon is a national institution. I strongly protest against the erection of the reformatory at that point."

VIRGINIANS UP IN ARMS

Protests and Suits Over Location of District Workhouse.

Howe Totten, a Washington lawyer, with a residence at Springfield, Va., has filed suit against the District of Columbia for $20,000 for damages alleged to have been caused by the proximity of the new District workhouse at Occoquan, Va., to his country home adjoining that establishment.

ALEXANDRIA CONCERN GOES INTO HANDS OF RECEIVERS

Sequel to Bank Failure.
Following close upon the heels of the collapse of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, Alexandria in receivership received another shock Thursday, when they learned that Judge J. B. Thornton, of the circuit court, had signed a decree placing the Mercantile-Railway Building and Loan Association in charge of Douglas Stuart and Lewis Hoff, as receivers.
The proceedings resulting in the appointment of receivers were instituted by Mr. Frank T. Sutton, Jr., John P. Robinson and Laurence Stabler, directors of the association. The receivers appeared before Judge Thornton on Wednesday, and were given a decree of $25,000. Attorney Booth gave out the following statement:
"The placing of the Mercantile-Railway Building and Loan Association in the hands of receivers, is, to a certain extent, a sequel to the appointment of receivers for the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation."

BISHOP LLOYD'S SUCCESSORS

Rev. Dr. John Janney Lloyd is regarded as the most likely successor of Rt. Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd to the bishopric of the diocese of Virginia, according to those well versed in the state of affairs. Rev. Dr. Lloyd is a brother of the bishop coadjutor, who resigned to accept the presidency of the board of domestic and foreign missions. He is a native of the southwest Virginia with headquarters at Big Stone Gap. He formerly held charges in Lynchburg and Bedford City and is considered one of the best preachers of the church in the state.
A successor to Bishop Lloyd will be chosen at the special session of the Virginia Diocesan Council held in the city of Richmond, on Feb. 1, in response to a call issued by Bishop Gibson. Each parish in the diocese is entitled to a representation of one delegate in addition to all the clergymen of the diocese and the professors at the Theological Seminary. Other names are being mentioned for the coadjutor episcopate.

FARMERS' WEEK IN ROANOKE

Farmers' week in Virginia is a new departure for the agricultural organizations of the State, which have joined for sessions that have been held in Roanoke simultaneously for three days. The Virginia Corn Growers' Association was addressed by Gov. Mann. Following this the association elected Dr. W. O. Collier, of Eastern Md., President—Charles W. Wampler, Harrisonburg.
Vice-President—B. Adams, Red Oak.
Secretary—Treasurer—Lynn Carrier, Blacksburg.
The principal address delivered before the corn growers' association was that of W. O. Collier, of Eastern Md., Thursday night a joint meeting of the Virginia Farmers' Institute and all of the other organizations which have been held in Roanoke. The principal speakers were Gov. Mann and President Johnson, of the N. & W. R. R.
